LITTLE ITEMS.

Efforts are being made to induce Ex-Chief Justice W. S. Pryor, of Henry county, to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Attorney General N. B. Hays opened his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor at New Castle, on Monday last. Gen. Hays made a bitter attack on the Democratic "machine."

Miss Mattie Hughes, of Midway, won the trip to Europe, given by the Courier-Journal, for the most popular young lady in the 10th District, which embraces Woodford, Franklin, Scott and other counties. The party will start from the Courier-Journal office, in Louisville, on Thursday, July 12th, and will return on Wednesday, August 29th, to the starting point.

The total assessed value of property liable to taxation in the State of Kentucky, after the Board of Equalization had made its final decision, is $678,034,918, an increase over last year of $33,545,828.

Hustle seems to be the word now as to the building of the Traction Line from this city to Versailles. The drawback is the scarcity of labor, which will soon be remedied.

For the first time since the street railroad company has been in existence we have a real system. Col. Sallee knows his business and requires his employees not only to know their duty, but (better still) to do it. There is absolutely no room for complaint about the service now, and people are showing their appreciation as they are riding on the cars as they never have done heretofore.

The F. & C. and Q. & C. Railroads will run one of their delightful excursions to Cincinnati tomorrow. Train leaves Frankfort 7 a. m. Returning leaves Cincinnati at 8:30 p. m. Fare $1.25. See ad.

That celebration of the Fourth of July at Lexington was one of the rankest fakes ever set up on a trusting public. The Air Ship didn't ship worth a cent, and it was known before hand that it would not fly. Yet thousands of people were enticed to pay 50 cents to see it. The howl that went up from the crowds of people when they were returning home was something to make the managers quake in their shoes.

The "Glorious Fourth" was indeed an ideal day. Just enough sunshine and shadow and all tempered by splendid breezes, which made every one glad to be alive.

A big syndicate, headed by Mr. Louis des Cognets, has purchased a controlling interest in the famous Phoenix Hotel, and will build a big addition on the east end of the property.

Col. Robert E. Woods, the popular new Postmaster at Louisville, assumed the duties of the place on July 1st. Mr. Woods is a man of fine ability, affability and discretion. He will make a splendid officer.

We were surprised and indignant when we saw the condition of beautiful Elkhorn creek, above Switzer. It was covered with a greasy scum caused by the refuse from the asphalt plant at Georgetown. The water is not fit for use, fish are said to be dying and stock refuse to drink it. This outrage should be put a stop to at once. We favor the establishment of manufactories, and such things, but they ought to remember that they must obey the law, as well.

A party of surveyors are taking topographical measurements of the northeast part of this county for the U. S. Government. They were here Monday night and Tuesday morning. Several of them were students from State College.

Cholera is playing havoc at Manila, P. I., in its most deadly form.

The National Banks are going to test the constitutionality of the law taxing the stock in such institutions for 1906. The law went into effect June 11, this year, while all other taxes are assessed as of date September, 1905. It looks like a strong point, being ex post facto.

Our banking institutions have declared semi-annual dividends as follows: State National, 3 per cent.; National Branch Bank, 3 per cent.; Deposit Bank, 3 per cent.; Farmers Bank, 5 per cent. All of them are in fine shape.

A colored inmate by the name of Charles Taylor was sent to the Eastern Asylum on Wednesday. He was violently insane.

The F. & C. Railway gives notice, in to-day's paper, of a series of excursions to Niagara Falls, at the extremely low rate of $0.80, for the round trip. For further particulars see the advertisement and write to Col. C. W. Hay, General Passenger Agent.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

We desire to sound a note of warning to certain individuals who are laboring under the impression that some of their escapades in this city are not known. They must not think that they can carry on intrigues here without people becoming "wise" to it. A certain prominent individual of a near by city came here recently and brought a strange woman with him, registering at a hotel as man and wife, and generally behaving as though a married couple.

Conduct such as this is not allowed to go unnoticed here, however much it goes elsewhere.

The authorities are on to the game and the parties may hear later something they will not care to have made known.

BACKACHE AND SICK KIDNEYS

Are quickly relieved and permanently cured by the New Herb Cure.

Father William's Indian Tea, Nature's Remedy, gathered in the Rocky Mountains. Pure and simple, but sure and certain. Acts like magic on the Kidneys and Bladder, cures Backache, Congestion of the Kidneys, Rheumatism, Gout, Jaundice and Bright's Disease. Give it a trial and be convinced. Put up in Tea and Tablet form, 21 and 35 cents a package. For sale by Frankfort Drug Co.

COUNTY COURT FAY.

Monday was county court day and there was only a moderate crowd in town, owing to the farmers being so busy taking care of their wheat and rye crops and hustling to keep ahead of the weeds in the corn crops.

There was a pretty good supply of horses on the market and some good ones, but the holders were very stiff in their prices, so that many were not sold.

There were a number of cows and calves and some short yearlings on the market. They brought fair prices only.

Some few good mules were sold at fancy prices. Ordinary stock was higher even than at last court.

The crowd dissolved early, and the farmers went back to the pressing work of the farm.

AN OVERWORKED STOMACH.

Try a little Kodol for dyspepsia after your meals. See the effect it will produce on your general feeling by digesting your food and helping your stomach to get itself into shape. Many stomachs are overworked to the point where they refuse to go further. Kodol digests your food and gives your stomach the rest it needs, while its reconstructive properties get the stomach back into working order. Kodol relieves flatulence, sour stomach, palpitation of the heart, belching, etc. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

SCORE ANOTHER SUCCESS.

Manager J. D. Sallee has scored another success in the way the Traction Co. handled the crowd on the fourth of July.

There were over 5,000 people carried to the Park and there was not a bobble in any way or any cause of complaint.

Besides this, the company carried other crowds to any place desired in the city.

Again we say "the right man in the right place." We have a real street car service.

ENGINE BROKE DOWN—TRAIN DELAYED.

The 9:35 eastbound L. & N. train, on Thursday morning, had an unruly engine which finally refused to go at all. A local freight engine was sent down and brought the delinquent train in at 12 m.

All mails from the West were accordingly delayed.

BARACA CLASS ENTERTAINED.

Mr. Walter Jeffers entertained the members of the Baraca Class, of the First Baptist Church, on Thursday evening, at his home opposite Silver Lake. Rev. Dr. M. B. Adams and quite a number of the members of the class were present. They had a delightful time. This class is a popular one with the young men of the city, and is growing in power and influence.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain can not stay where it is used.

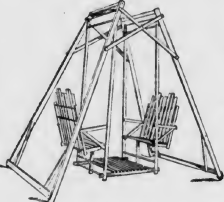

WHAT'S IN MCCLURE.

The July McClure's is a good, hearty and satisfying meal; some good articles on new things the world is doing, some important ones on vital topics of the day, and a good share of brisk and entertaining stories, the whole well served with attractive illustrations, many in color. Ray Stannard Baker's "The Music for an Old World," describing Dr. Thaddeus Chubb's marvelous instrument for producing music by electricity, the dynamophone, is full of suggestion and interest for both the musically and scientifically inclined. We have had many superficial descriptions of the San Francisco earthquake, but Henry Anderson Lader's record of experience and the impressions in "My Sixty Sleepless Hours," written on the spot, and at the time of the fire, touches the real heart of the event. The beginnings of the corrupt methods that resulted in the recent insurance scandals are interestingly shown by Burton J. Hendrick in the third installment of the "Story of Life-Insurance" in which he tells the career of Henry Baldwin Hyde, the founder of the Equitable. The ninth installment of Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences of a Long Life" contains some interesting impressions of Mazzini, the Italian patriot, and Kosuth, the Hungarian. Kipling's sturdy and imaginative stories of Old England continue with the life of Parnesius, the Roman legionary, telling how he was given command of the forces on the Great Wall and fought successfully "The Winged Hates" (the Danes). Non-military and perhaps experts as well will have their first motoring sensations brought back to them vividly and amusingly by Julian Street's "My Enemy—the Motor." James Hopper has a story of the Philippines, "Caybigan," which is full of color and power. "The Generous Mr. Dean," by Abby McGuire Roach, is an amusing character story with a little moral in its tail and "The Still of Ballyman," by Stella F. Wynne, is full of the Irish wit. "At the Top of the Road," by H. B. Gilling and "The Home Wind," are poems worth reading and remembering. Andie Catalano's pictures for the Kipling tale are stories in themselves, so full of life and interest and the spirit of the heart and flesh and life of the time.

STATE FAIR.

We earnestly hope that the question of the permanent location of the State Fair will be settled at once and for all time. There is no question but that Lexington is the proper location for it. We have nothing to say against Louisville, but it is a known fact that no fair at that place ever has been a success, else why have not they had a regular fair each year? Lexington always has been a success of agricultural fairs.

GALLANT SOLDIER ANSWERS LAST CALL.

After many months of intense suffering, bravely borne, Capt. John W. Daniel, shipping clerk and general manager for Messrs. Hammond & Co., lumber dealers, answered the last summons at 5:30 on Monday afternoon, aged 76 years.

Capt. Daniel was born and reared near Shakerstown, and at one time was in comfortable, if not affluent circumstances. By reason of endorsements for friends, and other untoward circumstances, he lost his patrimony, and, with a determination to make his way in the world learned the business of a railroad engineer, and followed that avocation, on the main line of the L. & N. railroad, until his health failed. Previously, however, he had served as a gallant soldier in the 9th Kentucky Cavalry, U. S. A., Col. R. T. Jacob, being mustered out as Captain.

Capt. Daniel married a widow lady by the name of Satterwhite, after his return from the army. They had no children, but he was indeed a devoted father to his step children and cared for them as tenderly as if they were his own.

For several years he lived on a farm near Bridgeport.

After misfortune came to him he came to this city to reside and became yardmaster for the big sawmills of Messrs. J. G. Dudley & Bro. (at this time known as the Roberts-Pilkington Mills), on the South Side. Later he was with Mr. J. M. Wakefield in a similar capacity. Still later he was with Messrs. W. J. Hughes & Co., and finally with Messrs. Hammond & Co., by whom he was employed when fatally stricken.

Although knowing that he had that fatal disease (Bright's) he stuck to his post of duty, until within a few days of the end, that he might assist his stepdaughter and her children.

Capt. Daniel was first and foremost a Christian gentleman, always especially tender and polite with ladies and children. He was a fearless, upright, honest man, never flinching to do what he considered right, regardless of consequences. His word was his bond. Scrupulously honest and direct, he had no patience with corruption, dishonesty, or shady transactions.

He was a member of the Episcopal Church. The funeral services were conducted on Tuesday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, from the residence of Mr. "Bud" Satterwhite, his stepson, by Rev. Wm. Crowe, after which the remains were laid away in our cemetery beside his wife.

He leaves one sister (Mrs. Mary E. Green, of Louisville), several nephews and nieces, and a large circle of warmly attached friends to mourn his death.

A braver or truer man never lived.

Worry

Almost Unnerved Me—Heart Pains.

Short of Breath, Faint and Languid.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

"It has been five years since I was cured of heart trouble by your Heart Cure and Nervine, and I am just as sound as a dollar in that organ today. For several years I had been suffering with my heart. Breathing had become short and difficult at times, sharp pains about the heart, sometimes accompanied with fluttering would make me feel faint and languid. The least excitement or mental worry would almost unnerve me. I felt that the trouble was growing worse all the time, and after trying many remedies prescribed by physicians without obtaining relief, I was induced to give your remedies a trial. I was relieved the second day, and after taking three or four bottles all symptoms were removed and have never showed signs of returning."—REV. GEO. W. KIRSCOPE, Chincoteague, Va.

There are many symptoms of heart disease, which so closely resemble those of more common nervous disorders as to frequently mislead the attending physician. Often in cases of heart trouble the stomach, kidneys, liver or lungs become affected. Again the symptoms may be those of weakened nerves, as tired feeling, sleeplessness, timidity, the patient is easily excitable and apt to worry without cause. If you have the least suspicion that your heart is weak study your symptoms and begin the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the great heart and blood tonic, without a day's delay.

All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SUDDEN DEATH.

While seated at the dinner table at his home, on Holmes street, on Monday last, Capt. W. H. Callis, foreman of the sanding department of the Ford-Johnson Co.'s Chair Factory, in the Penitentiary, threw his hands to his face and sunk back dead.

Mr. Callis had been in fine health, with no premonition of death, and had just come from his work, caught his little daughter up in his arms, and, after fondling her for a little while, sat down to dinner and was chatting with his wife in a happy frame of mind, when the stroke came. He said to his wife, just before that he was feeling a bit tired from the heat.

Dr. J. S. Goodrich was at once summoned, but the vital spark had fled. He ascribed it to a sudden attack of heart failure.

Capt. Callis had been sheriff of Trimble county, afterwards a guard at the Pen, until he had accepted a place with the Chair Co.

He was a member of Bedford Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Trimble county. The Odd Fellows of this city, as soon as they learned of the death, took charge of the remains, a delegation going with the body to Bedford where it was shipped on Tuesday morning.

Capt. Callis was a member of the Methodist Church, and Rev. J. O. A. Vaughn held a short service at the home before the body was taken away.

He leaves a wife and one little girl to mourn his death.

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up. Dean's Regulax cure biliousness attacks. 25 cents at any drug store.

FIRST CASE UNDER DOG LAW.

The first case, under the "Croan dog law," in this county, was a charge made by Mr. Wm. Hutcheson against Mr. John Clark, of the county, who alleged that Clark's dog had killed some of his sheep. The dog was identified by Hutcheson.

A deputy sheriff was sent by Judge Polgrove to kill the dog. Clark would not have it. A warrant was then sworn out for Clark, with a $5 per diem penalty for not allowing the dog killed.

FRANKFORT'S FOURTH OF JULY.

Frankfort had a quiet, yet pleasant fourth of July.

Arrangements had been made for a set address from Congressman South Trimble, and a platform had been erected in front of the old Capitol. But, owing to some misadventure, Mr. Trimble was not present.

Short addresses were delivered by Mr. Mr. Chas. G. Mutzenbergh and Mr. Marcus A. Jones.

Delightful music was rendered by the Second Regiment Band.

Later the big crowds went out to the Y. M. I. picnic, at Glenwood Park, and had a fine time until a late hour in the evening.

Many of our citizens went to the country to various points and others to Lexington, Louisville and Georgetown, while many others enjoyed the quiet of an exceptionally fine day at their homes.

There was a good crowd in the city and everybody seemed to have a good time.

CLOSE CALL.

A lad by the name of Dan McDonald was trying to learn to swim in the river, on Saturday, when he went beyond his depth, and came near to drowning. Luckily, Master Willie Newman, son of Mr. Dan Newman, was passing in a boat and succeeded in getting the unconscious boy to the shore, where he rolled him around until he revived.

MANY LIVE 100 YEARS.

The chances for living a full century are excellent in the case of Mrs. Jennie Duncan, of Haynesville, Me., now 70 years old. She writes: "Electric Bitters cured me of Chronic Dyspepsia of 20 years standing, and made me feel as well and strong as a young girl." Electric Bitters cures Stomach and Liver diseases, Blood disorders, General Debility and bodily weakness. Sold on a guarantee at all druggists. Price only 50c.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. Luther Crutcher, a blacksmith, in the employ of Mr. E. M. Cozine, on Second street, was stricken with heart failure, on Friday night, about 7 o'clock and passed away, at his home on the South Side, at 1 a. m., on Saturday.

Mr. Crutcher was a nephew of Dr. W. L., Messrs. M. L. and Richard J. Crutcher, and has a wife and five small children.

He was at work at his trade until just before the attack developed, although he had not been in good health for some months.

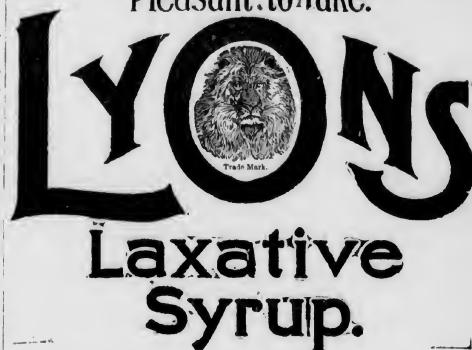

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. M. B. Adams, from the Cemetery Chapel, at 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and the remains were laid away in the family lot.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectation in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer clime, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Pleasant to take.

PRESCRIPTION FOR SUMMER COMPLAINT.

Dr. Hugh Rodman's, Year 1866.

Take a small double-handful of blackberry briar root, cut up fine, boil slowly in three pints of water, down to a little less than one pint, strain and add a teaspoonful, each, of ground cinnamon and powdered rhubarb, a dozen cloves and a lump of sugar as large as a hen's egg. Simmer again for thirty minutes, strain a second time and when cold add half a teaspoonful of good French brandy. Bottle for use. Dose: One teaspoonful of this mixture, which may be given three, four, or even six times a day, as the purging becomes greater or less.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures all liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will find your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves, and weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin, and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells you what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has the name of notoriety on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate the stomach and bowels.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

THE HARGIS TRIAL.

The case of the Commonwealth v. Jas. Hargis, charged with being accessory to the murder of Jas. B. Marcum, is on at Beattyville. From the accounts sent out from that place it looks like the affair is just like a volcano which is ready to burst out at any time and result in many deaths.

The authorities ought to send troops to that point to control the turbulent elements.

STEADMAN TOWN KING'S DAUGHTERS' ENTERTAINMENT.

The King's Daughters of Steadmantown Circle will give an ice cream supper at the residence of Mrs. Chas. W. Martin (the old Len Cox place), on Tuesday evening, July 10th. Everybody invited to come and have a good time. Everything will be first class—especially the cause for which the entertainment is given.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

While Mr. Eugene Carlton (clerk in the Postoffice), and young Mr. Burdin were driving out Capitol Avenue, on Wednesday last, the king bolt of the buggy broke, jerking Mr. Carlton to the ground. The horse was going at a good gait, and Mr. Carlton (who held on the reins,) was dragged about twenty yards before the animal could be stopped.

Mr. Carlton had one knee cut and bruised, but was otherwise unharmed. Mr. Burdin was thrown out to one side of the buggy, but, beyond being shaken up, was not injured.

It was a close call and Mr. Carlton is to be congratulated upon his narrow escape from instant death.

Scenes of Period When the Old Patriots Celebrated—Mr. Gunn Recalls Interesting Incidents of Celebrations of the National Holiday by the "Old Boys."

By John T. Gunn.

The true incentive to a fitting celebration of the Fourth of July is patriotism. The right kind of a celebration leaves a lasting impression. Let me describe two such occasions:

Sixty years ago to-day your correspondent was a witness to the last old-fashioned muster of the militia of Shelby county. It was held at Chenoweth Springs on the dirt road leading from Shelbyville to Mulberry school house. A boy, then 9 years old, I could not grasp all the details, but the great crowd, the poplar stump used as a speaker's stand—the big flag—the martial music with life and drum; the barbecue, the drilling and muster are still vivid in my mind. There were also groups of men playing marbles with the boys and various little stands from which were sold cakes, etc. Lemonade was only sold in town then and cost ten cents a glass.

But the great feature of the day was the muster. Two notable figures were General Logan and Colonel Merriwether, with cocked hats and dressed in continental uniforms with knee-breeches and buckies. The companies were mounted and the captains were distinguished by tall plumes in their hats. The marching was by fours in a long procession that filed out into a large field where the troopers swung into platoons and companies, that made a great display in showing how they could change front by the right or left wheel. This was witnessed by the spectators from an elevated spot, many on top of the rail fence or on the tree tops. The event of the day was Uncle Jack Miles mounted on his old war horse "Jim," marching up and down the road, admired by the crowd as Jim kept step to the tap of the drum. To my mind that was a great occasion.

The praise bestowed upon the heroes of the revolution and the reverence shown our country's flag inspired in me a love for the stars and stripes that has never waned but increases with added years.

The second scene was witnessed during the Atlanta campaign, July 4, 1864. On the preceding day our command filed through the town of Marietta, Ga. South of the town we formed in line of the battle on a long stretch of gently rolling cultivated lands, some distance in front of us were strong earth works occupied by Confederate soldiers. As soon as it was dark enough our skirmish line was advanced and our skirmishers worked their way close to the works. On a knoll in advance of the other skirmishers, a sergeant of Co. G, 21st Kentucky Veteran Volunteers, dug a skirmish pit with his bayonet, and was the sole occupant of it. His position was so perilous that the other soldiers were afraid to cross the open ground to reach him. At every sound the enemy's skirmishers were firing at us from their gopher holes. Very early July Fourth, the reveille was sounded and trumpeted all along the line.

SANG STAR SPANGLED BANNER.

The sound had just died away when that single soldier began to sing the "Star Spangled Banner." When he reached the chorus it was taken up by the men in the line of battle. Then every bugle and band in the entire army. It was a calm morning with an occasional light breeze. The sky was clear and the glad song echoed and reverberated through forest and plain. Indeed it was a concert, grand beyond description. The countenance of every soldier seemed radiant with joy. Following this great outburst of song the soldiers began to cheer and in the sunlight near and far the regimental standards could be seen fluttering in the breeze. They were so thrilled with enthusiasm that the line involuntarily advanced to find that the works in our front had been evacuated and that the Confederates had retreated to the Chattanooga river.

The soldier who started that racket was Charles C. Furr, now a resident of Frankfort, Ky. His comrades used to call him Dock. For two reasons. One was he could not tolerate a long tail coat, and the other was because he grew up in a neighborhood where the weed by that name was plentiful. That was a great day for Dock. He had hard service. Tramp, tramp, tramp, day after day until his shoes were well worn and tied on with bark strings. His pants were frayed at the bottom and hung by one suspender. He had no socks and his ankles were plainly visible. The tail of his coat had disappeared and his hat brim was so broken that he had to roll it under so as to give it the appearance of a cap. Through the holes in the crown there were little tufts of hair sticking out. He looked tough, but he was game and gave ample proof of his pluck. Sauntering through a forest to see if he could pick up a ration of

Refrigerators,
Water
Coolers,

game of some sort he came to a little clearing and peeping through the bushes he spied a squad of Confederates seated by a spring. He saw he could not retreat, and having served under Sherman so long, he resorted to strategy. He stepped behind a tree and said: "Here they are, come on boys." He then leveled his rifle at them and ordered their surrender and they grounded their arms. After dismantling their guns he marched them into camp. There were six of them. Being asked how he took so many prisoners he replied: "By granny, I surrounded them!" If he stands up for the right now like he did then his neighbors have in him a trusty and model citizen. At the close of the day above described the lines of General Sherman's army were advanced to the hill tops overlooking the Chattanooga river and the evening was spent by the bands playing national airs and the soldiers singing patriotic songs.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

THOUGHTS ON THE CONVENTION S. S.

The June morning was an ideal one. The long drive before us—along the white turnpike which wound its length around and above the city of Frankfort, Ky., the cliffs embowered with wild roses, exquisite bloom of thistle, mullen, and the queen's lace handkerchief—was full of a present happiness. The expectation and anticipation of satisfaction lay further on. Old Sol smiled down on the hot wheat fields now so snugly in housekeeping order on either side the pike, and the perfume of red clover, newly mown, was as sweetly—fragrant as the memories of "lang syne."

Homes of city residents (in business) were to be seen on the wayside. The "High View," "Thistleton," "Fleetwood," and many others, beautiful, modern, elegant, from carriage-driven avenues to the stone-pillared entrance, spoke of wealth in old Kentucky.

The "worm fences," stone fencing, red Durham cattle, fine horses, and the rural charm of country scene, with living personality, made for your correspondent a most delightful portraiture, felt only in the wholesome pleasure of cause and effect. Little spring branches trickling among the mint-scented bluegrass; wayward as to rocky ridges, tumbling across the pike, made the atmosphere refreshing, while the dew still lay upon landscape and blue sky was over it all. Many buggies passed. There appeared to be a general desire to travel over the road, and we were glad of it. Still reaching out before our eyes the turnpike journeyed on. Its white surface reflected the rays of sun which made the heat very oppressive until a rise of hill brought shadow and breeze. Much splendid woodland lay now on either side of the pike. The owners, God bless them, have kept the faith of their fathers and have not sacrificed to greed and gain these grand sentinels of Kentucky's greatness. Although tobacco was growing very luxuriantly, the trees were still unharmed in many places. May they live forever. An old home, deserted and forsaken, spoke in mute language from its open doorway. "All, all were gone! The old familiar faces. All were gone." After while we came to the "County Infirmary," a clean, kept yard, white-washed fence, and a "house" invitingly pleasant.

No doubt the "county fathers" have seen to the welfare of the "resident" portion, who may soon go to a "home whose maker and builder is God." Across the bridge, under which runs the stream called "Little Benson," and very soon we were at the Christian Church in the classic township of Bridgeport, welcomed by its citizens, and made to feel perfectly "at home" with numberless other strangers who were congregated together in brotherly kindness and Christian consideration about the Father's work.

The proceedings were conducted in business-like order, and the work of the Convention program carried out with beauty and dispatch. A number of ministers from Frankfort were in attendance, and quite a large percent of teachers and educators from adjoining counties in evidence. The exercises were full of interest, both intellectual and intensely spiritual. The officers of the convention being earnest consecrated workers in the Master's vineyard. The announcement of dinner made all hearts respond, and the menu "at our table" was full of overflowing from chicken (fried) to pie and cake. Mrs. Brown was our hostess, and her is herein subscribed our most grateful acknowledgment and fervent gratitude for kindness shown.

To others, we owe debts of kindly consideration for which thanks are herein returned. Friends were found, many friendship formed, and the sweetest of confidence shall be cherished always. It was a good meeting in many ways (and the people of Bridgeport and its immediate neighborhood) are to be congratulated on the success of the endeavor. Prof. Jones, of Switzer, and his wife, deserve a share for the homage.

Much local history was learned of the little village which shall be incorporated into views later on. Franklin county has many such neighborhoods which combine a fund of knowledge beyond compare. If we could only establish classes in which the children could gather up this history, the story of which would astonish the world, it would be well worth while.

The afternoon session was full of interest. Rev. Wm. Crowe was in his happiest vein. Dr. Hudson earnest in his educational talk. Both gentlemen spoke to the point and their remarks were well received. Prof. Thomas and wife, from Shelbyville, gave very delightful talks on Sunday-school work. Prof. Green, of Louisville, supplemented the ideal of progressive teaching as to record and grading.

We were sorry when the session ended. Good-bye was spoken with regret, and already the shadows were lengthening as we homeward journeyed, pleased with the Sunday-school Convention and the hospitality of Bridgeport.

The next Convention will be held with the good people of Switzer, June, 1907. All of the old officers were re-elected. Miss Lou Ward, of Frankfort, was put in charge of Home Department. Mrs. Nellie Steadman Cox, of Frankfort, was given Child Study Section, or Primary Grade.

Up hill, down hill, and over the hill—we weeded our way. Blackberries shone across cuts, the apple orchards tempted us—the peaches hung in luscious sweetness far beyond reach. It was something better than the ordinary—this drive home.

Pen and paper can but poorly express the feelings of your correspondent when the city came into view.

As some rich pearl from some glimmering sea,
Set into ring of beaten gold on tapering, slender finger,

So the green arch of trees, the picturesque of river bridges, red-roofed houses, velvet sward, the new capital buildings, and the supreme joy of comradeship thrilled us with the participation of loyalty to the State of birth—Kentucky.

May she live illustrious as the countries of Greece. May she live the higher life intellectually divine. May her name go down the ages crowned with the immortals of love to God and love to man.

A SWEET BREATH.

A sweet breath adds to the joys of life. You wouldn't want to kiss your wife, mother or sweetheart with a bad breath. You can't have a sweet breath without a healthy stomach. You can't have a healthy stomach without perfect digestion. There is only one remedy that digests what you eat and makes the breath as sweet as a rose—and that remedy is Kodol for dyspepsia. It is a relief for sour stomach, palpitation of the heart, and other ailments arising from disorder of the stomach and digestion. Take a little Kodol after your meals and see what it will do for you. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

OVERTAXED.

Hundreds of Frankfort Readers Know What it Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, sideache, headache, Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Frankfort citizen tells here a certain cure.

C. A. Wallace, retired farmer, living at 581 Holmes St., says: "I have thought that the kidney trouble that I suffered from for years was brought on by heavy lifting and work which I did in logging business when a young man. In this work I had to exert all my strength and many times lifted what ordinarily two men would be required to do. This straining myself often caused a dull aching and lameness in my back and as time went on it got from bad to worse, the aching growing much more severe until it became so bad at times that I could scarcely get around. A difficulty with the kidney secretions set in and they were scalding, irregular and annoying, especially at night, breaking my rest five or six times. I used various remedies, but got little relief from them. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and as they were highly recommended, I procured a box at J. W. Gayle's drug store and they helped me from the start. I continued using them until I had taken two boxes. I was benefited in every way. I have every confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

COUNTY ASSESSOR WAY-LAID.

J. W. Coulter, of Leslie, S. D., Assessor of Stanley county, relates the following: "I was laid up by a complication of throat and lung troubles, bronchitis, asthma and a terrible cough, which had affected me for years, when I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. Relief came almost immediately, and in a short time a permanent cure resulted." No other medicine compares with it as a sure and quick cure for cough and colds. It cures after all other remedies have failed. Every bottle guaranteed at all druggists. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Timely Hints to Portland Tourists Seeking Reliable Information.

If you contemplate a trip to the Pacific Coast or Puget Sound country during the period of low rates to Portland, the following information should realize the value of a few suggestions of how best to see most without extra cost, including Round the Horn in the Canadian Rockies; a sea trip from Victoria and Vancouver to the Exposition City; America's virgin play ground, Yellowstone Park; Mount Hood or Mount St. Helens; the Mormon capital, Salt Lake City, and its great dead sea; the mines and mountains of Colorado; the sub-line Grand Canyon that no brush has ever copied, and to see and reach all by the most comfortable and luxurious means of travel, it would pay you to confer with a Monon Route Agent while in Louisville, for his office is literally stacked with beautiful illustrated literature on the subject, and all information will be cheerfully and intelligently furnished. Long distance telephone may be used on both phones, 181. Address E. H. Bacon, D. P. A., Monon Route, Louisville, Ky.
